Stuck in a land of no rules or law, where family honor meant everything, she was to be bound by revenge to a man who threatened to steal her soul and also her heart...Although a part of the series, this book can be read as a STANDALONE romance. WARNING: This is a fictional romance story that transports you to a different world that has no restraints or boundaries. Please proceed with caution as the book contains graphic violence and sexual content that is recommended for mature reading audiences with an open mind only! EXCERPT: "Turn around and look at me." The order was thrown in a chillingly calm tone. Trembling and worried about the consequences, Anika slowly turned, and raised her eyes toward the man in front of her. Her vision was still blurry from the residual moisture. She wiped her tears away and was met with the sight of the broad back of a tall man. He was turned away from her as he closed the door shut. Stepping back, she wrapped her arms around her protectively. She kept her wary eyes trained on his back, waiting for what, she didn't know. As soon as he turned, she felt like the air was sucked away from around them, making her gasp out loud. The man looked larger than life, and more importantly, he looked like he could easily kill her with a single blow. His eyes scanned the mess she had made in the room, before he turned to look at her face dispassionately. She expected to see anger, but there was none. He didn't say anything for a long moment, just kept his eyes firmly locked on her face. After an indeterminate amount of time, he broke the deafening silence. "So. You are my bride-to-be," he stated rather than ask in a deep voice. After an indeterminate amount of time, he broke the deafening silence. "So. You are my bride-to-be," he stated rather than ask in a deep voice. The word 'bride' broke through her trance and made adrenaline course through her body. God, this is so messed up. Why am I cowering in fear? "I don't want this," she whispered, unable to work up a louder voice. She kept her eyes on his face, pleading. "Please stop this marriage." He didn't respond, and neither did he react. "I don't want this wedding," she repeated. "We can think of another solution. We should be able to come up with a reasonable..." her voice trailed off when she saw him compressing his lips into a thin, hard line as he began to walk toward her. Through trembling lips, she spoke again. "I'm not from your world. I don't belong here. Let me go back to my family," she reasoned. The man stopped in front of her until he was too close for comfort. His eyes were riveted on her face as his mouth stretched into a sneer full of hate and loathe. "We are getting married because your precious family has begged me to do so. So, if you or your fucking family tries to pull any stunt during our wedding today, and try to back out, I'm not going to spare anyone." He spat out the words 'your family' like they were a curse. Slowly and deliberately his eyes swept over her body clothed in traditional bridal attire. "Nothing and no one--including you--can stop this from happening. You will become my wife by tonight," he vowed. Listening to those words, her legs gave out from under her, and she collapsed on her knees unable to swallow the defeat. How could she let herself be trapped in this hellhole? Because of her one impulsive decision, she was going to lose everything.

From the Pulitzer Prize-winning author of All the Light We Cannot See, perhaps the most bestselling and beloved literary fiction of our time, comes a triumph of imagination and compassion, a soaring novel about children on the cusp of adulthood in a broken world, who find resilience, hope, and story. The heroes of Cloud Cuckoo Land are trying to figure out the world around them: Anna and Omeir, on opposite sides of the formidable city walls during the 1453 siege of Constantinople; teenage idealist Seymour in an attack on a public library in present day Idaho; and Konstance, on an interstellar ship bound for an exoplanet, decades from now. Like Marie-Laure and Werner in All the Light We Cannot See, Anna, Omeir, Seymour, and Konstance are dreamers and outsiders who find resourcefulness and hope in the midst of peril. An ancient text—the story of Aethon, who longs to be turned into a bird so that he can fly to a utopian paradise in the sky—provides solace and mystery to these unforgettable characters. Doerr has created a tapestry of times and places that reflects our vast interconnectedness—with other species, with each other, with those who lived before us and those who will be here after we're gone. Dedicated to “the librarians then, now, and in the years to come,” Cloud Cuckoo Land is a hauntingly beautiful and redemptive novel about stewardship—of the book, of the Earth, of the human heart.

Delilah's plan worked a little too well... She thought a low-level job in the records department of the Stone-Black Corporation would allow her to uncover wrong-doings she could show to the world to take the company down. But after only three days she's suddenly promoted to work as executive assistant to Jackson Stone, mercurial CEO and number #1 on her list of bastards who deserve a slap in the face. He has a temper. He has a secret. He is absolutely gorgeous. When he punishes her for snooping around his office, she realizes she may be in over her head. Billionaire Bound: Part 1, Billionaire Bond: Part 2, Billionaire Bondage: Part 3, Billionaire Black: Part 4, Billionaire Blackmail: Part 5, Billionaire Bought: Part 6, Billionaire Bind: Part 7, Billionaire Broken: Part 8 (the final book) are now available! EXCERPT: "I've been what?" I adjusted my glasses and tried to swallow but my throat had gone dry. "Promoted to executive assistant. Take your things, these papers and go to the top floor," Ms. Green, the HR manager, said in a cold voice. I tried to find my voice but only a croak came out and I felt myself break out in the sweat. "I'd hurry if I were you. Mr. Stone doesn't like to be kept waiting," she said, not looking up from her computer screen. "But I'm meant to be working as a records clerk," I protested. I'd only been at Stone-Black for three days and I'd already been promoted? "And now you're an executive assistant. Take these with you. Good luck with your short-term career." She handed me an elevator fob and waved her hand at a stack of papers. I picked up the papers and headed in the general direction of the elevator, trying to work out whether I should just walk out the front door. And what did she mean by "short-term career"? Executive Assistant to Mr. Jackson Stone. The CEO of Stone-Black and reputed to be a mercurial tyrant who hired and fired people on a whim. I'd only seen his picture on the web - various charity balls, meetings with government officials - and what could I say? The man was hot. Tall with blond hair and blue-green eyes, he was a billionaire to boot. In every photo he seemed to be wearing a scowl as though there was a volcano inside him, barely held in check. I got halfway to the elevator before I decided to bail on my plan. The Stone-Black corporation had practically destroyed my home-town of Bedford and then gotten away with it via various sneaky legal maneuvers. I thought being hired in the records department was the perfect way to discover something that could topple the whole business. I knew it had been too perfect to get that job and after only three days I had been "promoted" to executive assistant. I turned abruptly and crashed directly into a man who'd been striding behind me. I dropped the papers to the ground, along with my bag. Bits and pieces went everywhere. "Oh, I'm sorry," I stammered, trying to pick up all the papers at once from the floor. A red-leather briefcase came down next to my handbag and its contents strewn across the floor. The man scooped up the contents and put them back into the bag as I gathered the papers. "Ms. Neri?" I swallowed again and croaked something that could possibly have been yes as I followed the line of an Italian suit up to two blue-green eyes. Jackson Stone. CEO of Stone-Black.
