Research has proven that the greatest contributor to cell group success is the quality of coaching provided for cell group leaders. Many are serving in the position of a coach, but they don't fully understand what they are supposed to do in this position. Joel Comiskey has identified seven habits of great cell group coaches. These include: • Receiving from God. • Listening to the needs of the cell group leader. • Encouraging the cell group leader. • Caring for the multiple aspects of a leader's life. • Developing the cell leader in various aspects of leadership. • Strategizing with the cell leader to create a plan. • Challenging the cell leader to grow. Practical insights on how to develop these seven habits are outlined in section one. Section two addresses how to polish your skills as a coach with instructions on diagnosing problems in a cell group, how to lead coaching meetings, and what to do when visiting a cell group meeting. This book will prepare you to be a great cell group coach, one who mentors, supports, and guides cell group leaders into great ministry.

Training Manual for Cell Group Ministry with University Students CCS Publishing

The great commission is great because it is, urgent, foundational, indispensable and central to God's purposes. Jesus gave the great commission within the context of His example and His words thus we can affirm that He gave the great commission within the context of discipleship through small groups. Jesus developed His discipleship ministry through His small group of disciples. One of the most important principles of discipleship, the most biblical model for fulfilling the great commission, is training people through small groups or cell groups. This book serves as a vision manual for fulfilling the great commission through discipleship in small groups. Jesus taught us how to make disciples through the discipleship principle of team ministry. We can easily observe that Jesus never walked alone. He always ministered and traveled in the company of His small group of disciples. Jesus became the firstborn son of God. Since He was the first, it is implicit that there will be others. Christ's small group of disciples was the first of the other sons of God. Jesus gave the great commission to a group of disciples that included His small group of 12 and a larger group of 120 when He commanded them to go into all the world and make disciples. Churches do many things but few do the main thing. Fulfilling the great commission through discipleship is the main thing that all churches should be doing but tragically push aside. The reason for this negligence is not particularly complicated but often overlooked. It is simple: since fulfilling the great commission is such an important mandate, it is natural that Satan would do everything to oppose it. Satan's #1 strategy for opposing the great commission through discipleship in cell groups, is to convince churches that it is sufficient to speak of it occasionally, and expect that it will happen spontaneously without embracing it as the #1 priority. This manual addresses the need for each church to become a church of overcomers and not merely a community of saved people. Each member of each church must recognize that God has given His people His image and likeness and has from the beginning commanded us to be fruitful and multiply and fill the earth. God gave this command to Adam &

Eve, again to Noah, to Abraham and to all Christians when Jesus repeated this command in the great commission. This manual explains how each believer can become a minister (one who serves by leading others). In order to fulfill the great commission we must learn how to lead at least one person because it is impossible to learn how to make a disciple without performing the main requirement of discipleship which is leadership. In order to fulfill the great commission we must know how to make a disciple. In the great commission Jesus told His followers to make disciples by preaching to them, teaching them to obey everything that He commanded, baptizing them and finally training them how to duplicate the entire process in another generation of disciples. This manual focuses in on how to develop small groups. Small groups are related to the local church just as biological cells are related to the body. This is why we often call small groups "cell groups". This manual will challenge, encourage and teach you how to be an excellent small group leader. You will learn how to focus on the main objectives of a successful cell group, who the main players are in successful cell groups, how successful cell groups multiply, how to define the functions of each member of a cell group and the different parts of a cell group meeting. You will also learn basic strategies for the growth of cell groups, characteristics of a strong cell group, stages that a normal cell group goes through, how to begin a cell group and how to protect the vision of small group ministry. This manual also teaches about the enemies of the cell group vision, how to resolve problems in the cell group and the reasons why so groups fail to grow.

The four gospels - Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John - present Jesus Christ, God Himself, breaking into human history.... The story of Jesus and the early church should not end. Jesus Christ laid the foundation for the church through His life, death, and resurrection as recorded in the four gospels.... The followers of Jesus Christ then continued His work by spreading the gospel through preaching and teaching and the planting of new churches.... To continue the work begun by Christ and His disciples, new church planting should be at the top of our list of priorities, as it was in theirs. From the Prologue

Training the next generation of leaders is crucial to spreading the gospel, yet most churches have no formal way of doing this. Why? Tight budgets, small staffs, and a lack of know-how are just a few reasons suggested by church consultants Aubrey Malphurs and William Mancini in this groundbreaking book. Building Leaders provides real-life examples of ways churches can unleash their true ministry potential by training staff members and laypeople to lead. With step-by-step instructions that can be applied to any church or parachurch ministry, Building Leaders shows readers how to: - empower, not just train, leaders - overcome obstacles to developing leaders - identify emerging leaders - use biblical models for training leaders - form a leadership training program to fit any size or budget Packed with surveys, discussion questions, and a leadership development guide, Building Leaders will encourage leaders to "duplicate themselves" in order to see their ministry grow. It is a perfect resource for ministry students, church leaders, and pastors.

Home Cell Group Explosion (2023 version) is the most researched and practical book ever written on cell group evangelism! Joel Comiskey traversed the globe to find out why certain churches and small groups are successful in reaching the lost. He found the answers and freely shares them within this volume. If you are a pastor or small group leader, you should devour this book! It will encourage you and give you simple, practical steps for dynamic small group life and growth. My friend Joel Comiskey is a combination of a local church practitioner and a painstaking scholar. Joel spent hundreds of hours and thousands of dollars visiting eight of the highest-visibility cell group churches to interview their leaders and record his findings. I love this book because it focuses on the multiplication of cells for the greatest evangelistic results. (C.Peter Wagner, Author, Scholar, and Church Growth Expert) Comiskey does not just describe what is happening in cell churches. He takes the next step and identifies in a step-by-step fashion how we can apply these principles in our churches. It is all here-everything we need to know to start and grow a cell group ministry. I am grateful to Dr. Comiskey, for the time, effort, and research that has gone into producing this long-needed book. (Richard Peace, Ph.D., Professor of Evangelism and Spiritual Formation, Fuller Theological Seminary) Joel and I shared many days in Bogota as this book was written. His grasp of cell church models is superior to any other person I have worked with: this book is a treasure of information for church planters and pastors wishing to transition to the cell model.
